BlueStream Expands Mobility Portfolio Through Purchase Of Assets of Andrew Services Inc., from CommScope

Faribault, MN., November 17, 2016. BlueStream, a member of the KGP family of companies and leading provider of planning, implementation and maintenance services for wireless and wireline communications networks, announces the purchase of select assets and ongoing business of the program management and field installation services arm of Andrew Services Inc. (ASI), a division of CommScope. The acquired assets, which included the transfer of a number of key employees, is primarily focused on construction services for wireless customers in the US. The acquisition provides depth and site development talent, enhancing BlueStream's mobility services offering.

"KGP Companies continues to focus on scale and talent while enhancing our unique end-to-end services and supply chain offerings," said Trevor Putrah, President. "We are confident this acquisition will be a strong addition, and we welcome the new employees to our family."

"We are resolute in our commitment to remain innovative, right sized and relevant with respect to providing end-to-end network transformation services. This addition provides the opportunity for BlueStream to expand and deepen our services footprint in response to the growing needs for wireless network (macro and micro) new builds, transformations and enhancements across the country," said Matt Glass, Chief Operating Officer of BlueStream. "BlueStream is already uniquely positioned to provide end-to-end network services and we are excited to incorporate the capabilities of this acquisition to further strengthen that position and the capabilities of KGP Companies."
